

The Garden of Eden and the Sanctuary

The arrangement of the Garden of Eden's landscape corresponds to that of the Tabernacle and Temple with its furniture. Eastward movement (out of the Garden) is away from God's presence; westward movement (through the Sanctuary) is a return toward God. On the Day of Atonement the high priest reverses the people's spiritual exile from God and restores them to a relationship with God (through a blood sacrifice for sin).
